EVENTS IN THE EAST.

THE DOMINION CABINET HAS A MEETING.

Lenient Treatment of Offending Clerks—Mr. Burgess to be Superannuated—Fire in Ottawa—Opening of the Baie des Chaleurs Investigation.

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—An important meeting of the Cabinet was held yesterday afternoon, at which the Government took the first step towards the reconstruction of the Cabinet. Chapleau and Caron were summoned from Montreal to be in attendance. All the members were present. At the meeting Sir John Thompson received the necessary authority to prosecute the contractors for frauds on the Government, as unearthed in investigating Mr. Tarte's charges.

It is learned that A. M. Burgess, Deputy Minister of the Interior, will be superannuated, after having ten years added to his term of service, which would give him about $1500 a year superannuation allowance. He will then accept the position of assistant secretary of the Canadian Pacific. Premier Abbott says all the senior clerks guilty of irregularities will probably be reinstated, as it is considered three months' suspension without pay is sufficient punishment.

The Postmaster-General says mileage of Western mail clerks was reduced because they heretofore have been getting more than the law allows, and the Auditor-General having directed attention to the matter, there was no alternative.

Mr. Dewdney has submitted a memorandum to the Privy Council, advising that the squatters on the Walrond ranch, in Alberta, be compensated for their improvements, and made to move off.

BAIE DES CHALEURS SCANDAL.

QUEBEC, Oct. 7.—The Royal Commission commenced its sittings yesterday. Col. Amyot and Mr. Beique represent the Government, and Judge Irvine appears for Pacaud.

STRIKES.

HALIFAX, Oct. 7.—A thousand men engaged in the building trades are on strike, with no prospect of a settlement.

MONTREAL, Oct. 7.—Five hundred employees of the Merchants Manufacturing Company, St. Henri, have struck.

A MURDEROUS HUSBAND.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 7.—John Hailstone, of Greenburg, shot his wife on Monday, and then suicided. The wife will recover.

WINNIPEG FAIR.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 7.—The cash receipts for the exhibition were $5750, which is more than was expected, notwithstanding the bad weather.

The Supreme Court meets on Oct. 27th, when the Manitoba school law comes up.

Baskerville Bros'. and adjourning premises were damaged by fire last night to the extent of $35,000.

A Railway Traffic Break-up.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—A Chicago special to the Herald says: The commissioners of the Western Traffic Association to-day broke the Union Pacific and Northwestern agreement. Under this agreement, which disrupted the Interstate Commerce Railway Association, the Northwestern accepted 19.6 per cent. of the through rate as its proportion, instead of 22 per cent., which the line had formerly received. The St. Paul insisted on receiving 22 per cent. as its proportion of traffic from Montana, and the Union Pacific refused to pay more than the Northwestern would have accepted. The Northwestern has joined with the other roads in demanding larger divisions, and the Western Traffic Commissioners officially declare that the Union Pacific connections should receive 22 per cent. This decision has set afloat all sorts of rumors, the purport being that the Northwestern is weary of its alliance with the U. P., and that now is the time to annual it. This in turn is said to demonstrate the fact that since Gould has secured control of the U. P., he has diverted all possible traffic to his Missouri Pacific and Richmond Terminal, thereby so decreasing the traffic of the Northwestern as to make it more profitable to throw up the alliance and go on even terms with the competitors.

A Loss to the Tories.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The death of Rt. Hon. W. H. Smith continues to be a prominent topic of discussion. He was the right hand man of Lord Salisbury, and the only commissioner with whom the aristocratic Premier really unbent. While there are able men left in the Tory ranks, and Mr. Smith had his superiors in ability, he had no superior in his capacity to hold and commend the good will of his hearers in and out of Parliament. He was almost alone in his popularity with the multitude. They always looked on him as one of themselves, who has won higher place by his unfiring fidelity, and who never was ashamed of his origin. With Mr. Smith as House leader for the Unionist party, it was difficult for the Liberals to proclaim that their opponents were all of them aristocrats and out of touch with the common place. His death leaves the Unionist party without a really popular member of the cabinet. Goschen, who is mentioned as his successor, has none of the magnetism of Smith. He started in life as the son of a rich London merchant, and, unlike Smith, he never saw anything of the serious struggle for existence.

Sir John Pope Hennessy Dead.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Sir John Pope Hennessey, K.C.M.G., member of Parliament for the Northern Division of Kilkenny, is dead. Sir John has been lately prominently before the public as the candidate in North Kilkenny of the anti-Parnellite wing of the Irish party. He was elected by a large majority over Parnell's candidate. Sir John was a native of Cork, and was born in 1834. He was elected to the House of Commons in 1859 and remained a member for some years, being distinguished as the first Catholic Conservative to appear in the House. In latter years he held office as governor of various smaller colonies, among them being Hong Hong and the Mauritius.

Dying of Starvation.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 6.—The newspapers here denounce the conduct of merchants and members of the nobility for seeking to profit from their store of corn while the poor peasants are starving. They make a strong appeal to the Government to revoke the edict prohibiting the export of rye, and substitute therefor a heavy tax on the exportation of all cereals. Reports from the Baku districts and elsewhere are to the effect that thousands of persons are dying of starvation.

IRELAND'S LEADER DEAD

CHARLES STEWART PARNELL JOINS THE MAJORITY

After a Brief Illness—A Shock Caused by His Unexpected Death—Weakness and Fatigue Resulted From His Recent Worries—A Sketch of His Career.

LONDON, Oct. 7—Parnell died last night. His death was the result of a chill with which he was attacked last week. On Friday he was compelled to take to his bed, and his death occurred at Walsingham Terrace, Brighton, at thirty minutes past eleven last night. The news created most intense excitement in the city, and the bulletin boards in front of the newspaper offices are surrounded by crowds of people awaiting the slow coming details of the most unexpected event. Telegrams are pouring in upon the late leader's friends in this city from all parts of Ireland, urging them to promptly forward to the country every scrap of news in connection with his death which can possibly be obtained.

It had been known that Parnell had not enjoyed the best of health for years, and it had been noticed and widely commented upon that since the O'Shea divorce developments and consequent political troubles came upon him he had grown thinner and had perceptably aged in countenance. Nobody, however, expected to hear of his death, and no word as to his illness had reached the newspapers. From the day he took to his bed, the state of Parnell's health was such as to necessitate the constant attention of two physicians, but in spite of their incessant and untiring efforts to prolong or save his life, Parnell gradually sank lower until he expired in the arms of Mrs. Parnell, who is utterly prostrated by the shock.

CHARLES STEWART PARNELL

Was born in 1846, at Avondale, County Wicklow, Ireland. He was descended from an old English family that passed over from Congleton, Cheshire, to Ireland, and many of his ancestors have played prominent parts in history. Thomas Parnell, the poet, was one of the family. Mr. Parnell's great grandfather, Sir John Parnell, held for many years the office of Chancellor of the Exchequer in the Irish Parliament, and resigned rather than vote for the Act of Union; and Sir Henry Parnell, Sir John's son, after many years' service in the House of Commons, was raised to the peerage as Lord Congleton in 1841. Mr. Parnell, whose mother is a daughter of Admiral Stewart, a celebrated American naval officer, was educated at various private schools in England, and afterwards went to Magdalen College, Cambridge. After a tour of the United States he returned to his home in Wicklow, and was High Sheriff of the county in 1874. He made his first attempt to enter public life in the same year, contesting the county of Dublin with the late Col. Taylor on the latter's acceptance of office as Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster in the second administration of Lord Beaconsfield. He was defeated by an overwhelming majority, but in the following year he was returned for County Meath in succession to the late John Martin. For some time he took no prominent part in the proceedings of Parliament, but during the session of 1876 he attracted some attention by engaging in one or two prolonged and stubborn conflicts with the Government. In February, 1877, he made his first appearance as a legislator, introducing the "Irish Church Act Amendment Bill," the object of which was to facilitate the purchase of their holdings by the tenantry of the disestablished Irish Church. The bill was thrown out by 150 to 110 votes. The introduction of the Prisons Bill by Sir Richard (then Mr.) Cross, gave rise to to the first real development of the principle of what was known as the "active" policy to the Irish and the policy of "obstruction" to the English. The various clauses of the measure were actively opposed; and when attempts were made to force the bill through at a late hour, there were repeated motions for adjournment. A similar course was pursued on the Meeting Bill, hostility being directed chiefly against the flogging clauses; and and scenes of much passion and excitement frequently occurred. Mr. Courtney, Mr. E. Jenkins, and other Liberal members, were strongly opposed to the South Africa Bill, which authorized, among other things, the annexation of the Transvaal. Mr. Parnell joined in the attack upon the Government; and on the 31st July the House sat for 22 hours—from a quarter to four on a Tuesday till two in the afternoon of the following day. Mr. Parnell came into serious collision during the course of that session with both Sir Stafford Northcote, then leader of the House of Commons, and Mr. Butt, then leader of the Irish party. Sir Stafford Northcote moved a resolution on one occasion for Mr. Parnell's suspension, which, after varying fortunes, had finally to be abandoned, in order to give way for some new rules against "obstruction" generally. Mr. Butt condemned the policy of Mr. Parnell, both by letters and speeches; but it soon became apparent that the action of the younger man was the more popular among the Irish people. In the beginning of 1878 Mr. Parnell was elected President, instead of Mr. Butt, of the Irish organization in England, known as the Home Rule Confederation, and from that time forward Mr. Butt practically ceased to be the leader of the Irish party. The sessions of 1878 and 1879 were practically a repetition of the proceedings of 1877. In 1878 a committee was appointed to discuss the best means for putting down "obstruction," and Mr. Parnell was appointed a member and took an active part in examining the various witnesses called. The hostility of Mr. Parnell was chiefly directed in those years to the use of the lash, and finally, in 1879, he succeeded in having it abolished.

At the close of the session of 1879 Mr. Parnell entered upon a new and important epoch in his career. There had been a succession of three bad harvests in Ireland; the country was threatened with deep and widespread distress; and the time was ripe for starting a new movement for reform of the relations between landlord and tenant. A meeting had been held in Irishtown, County Mayo, in the previous April, but it was not till June that Mr. Parnell formally joined the new land movement. It was on this occasion that he uttered as the keynote of the coming struggle the words, "keep a firm grip of your homesteads." On the 21st October following the "Irish National Land League" was founded, and Mr. Parnell was elected the first president. The objects of the new organization were declared to be—"first, to bring about a reduction of rack-rents; secondly, to facilitate the obtaining of the ownership of the soil by the occupiers. In December of the same year he sailed for America, in order to raise funds for the relief of distress and for starting the new organization; he lectured in a large number of towns, before several state legislatures, and finally before the House of Representatives at Washington. The honor of addressing the latter assembly had previously been conferred on but three persons—Lafayette, Bishop England of Charleston, and Kossuth. Meantime Parliament was dissolved; Parnell hurried home, took an active part in the general election, which resulted in the return of Mr. Gladstone to power, and was himself elected for three constituencies—Meath, Mayo and Cork; he selected the last named constituency. At the meeting of the new Irish party after the election he was chosen leader instead of Mr. Shaw, who had succeeded Mr. Butt. Immediately after the meeting of the new Parliament, Mr. Parnell called for the introduction of a measure to deal with the Irish land question; and shortly afterwards the Government brought in the Compensation for Disturbance Bill, which, having been passed by the Commons, was rejected by the House of Lords.

In the autumn of 1880, Mr. Parnell took an active part in organizing the Land League, which rapidly grew to be the most powerful of modern Irish movements. In November of that year informations were laid by the Irish Attorney-General against Parnell and several other members of the Land League executive; the trial opened at Dublin on the 28th December, and finally, after 19 days' hearing, ended in a disagreement of the jury. In the opening of the session of 1881, the Government brought in a Coercion Bill, and to this measure, as well as to the Arms Bill, Mr. Parnell and his colleagues offered a fierce and obstinate opposition, prolonged over seven weeks. There were many exciting and tumultuous scenes, and on the 3rd of February he and 34 of his followers were removed by the Sergeant-at-Arms for causing obstruction in the House of Commons. The Land Act having passed into law, Parnell presided at a Land League convention, at which it was resolved that the Act should be tested by means of certain selected cases; he was present afterwards at several Land League demonstrations, and on the 13th October he was arrested and conveyed to Kilmainham jail. The Government immediately afterwards proclaimed the Land League as an illegal association, and Parnell and his colleagues in reply issued the famous "No Rent" manifesto. Mr. Parnell remained in Kilmainham till April 10, 1882, when he was released on parole in order to attend the funeral of a relative. On May 2 he was formally released, as well as his colleagues, John Dillon and Mr. O'Kelly. Then followed the resignation of Mr. Forster and Earl Cowper as Secretary and Lord Lieutenant respectively, and shortly afterwards the murder of Lord Frederick Cavendish and Mr. Burke in Phœnix Park. This crime was a severe blow to the cause of Home Rule. Next came the stormy debates on the Crimes Bill, in which Mr. Parnell took his usual prominent part. While he was in prison the freedom of the city was voted to him by Dublin and other places in Ireland, and on Jan. 3, 1882, he and Mr. Dillon attended in the City Hall, Dublin, to receive the honor, the event being celebrated with much eclat. In the session of 1882, Parnell took an active part in procuring the passage of the Arrears Act, and of the Tramways and Laborers Acts in the session of 1883. A national subscription to Mr. Parnell was started in the spring of 1883, and the sum of £35,000 was raised among the Irish at home and in America and presented to him as some measure of compensation for the time and money he had spent in his struggle on behalf of Ireland. The Land League was revived under the name of the National League, and Mr. Parnell was again placed at its head. During the sessions of 1884 and 1885 he had even more complete control over his followers than before, exercising practically the power of a dictator and inspiring all the policy of his party. When Parliament was dissolved in 1885 Parnell personally directed the Home Rule campaign, nominating every Nationalist candidate, though strong objection was taken by colleagues to some of his candidates. Parliament re-assembled with Parnell in the lead of 85 followers, holding the balance of power between the two English parties. Gladstone then proposed his Home Rule measure, which the Conservatives and Unionists voted down, and the new election and change of government ensued. Under the Salisbury regime there has been new legislation for Ireland, both coercive and remedial, and at present there is a proposal to grant modified home rule in the shape of local government.

The later events in Mr. Parnell's career form a melancholy chapter. The history of his relations with Mrs. O'Shea, the divorce suit and the secession of the majority of his followers need not be dwelt on at length.

We are making special low prices for exhibition week only, commencing today, Saturday. Macaulay & Higginbotham, 74 Yates street.

ON TRIAL FOR HERESY.

The Case Against Rev. Dr. Briggs Before the New York Presbytery.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—At the semi-annual meeting of the New York Presbytery yesterday, the prosecuting committee appointed to prepare papers in the trial of Professor Briggs, presented a report embodying the charges against him, which in brief are as follows: Disbelief in the Bible as the only true source of Divine authority; disbelief in the verbal inspiration and inerrancy of the Scriptures; disbelief in immediate sanctification at death of the souls of those dying in the faith.

The indictment bases the charges against Professor Briggs solely on the "inaugural address," because it is the most deliberate and emphatic expression of his doctrine. The report goes on to say that it was decided by the committee that it is neither necessary nor advisable to embrace in the list of charges all the doctrinal errors contained in the inaugural address, and while its teachings respecting the miracles, the original condition of man, nature, sin, race-redemption and Dr. Briggs' scheme of Biblical theology in general are not in harmony with the Scriptures, and calculated to weaken confidence in the Word of God and to encourage presumption on the clemency and law of God, it had decided it best to confine attention to a few departures from the teachings of the Scriptures, which are fundamental to the entire discussion. The discussion of the indictment will not be in order for some time.

Professor Briggs moved that his case be taken up the first thing in the afternoon, but the motion was defeated. Professor Briggs will have ten days to prepare his answer, and the trial, if one takes place, will probably be set down in the latter part of this month.

The report had not been presented to the meeting, and routine business was in progress when Dr. Alexander, of University Place church, moved to suspend the order of the day, to present a resolution in the Briggs matter. It was declared out of order by a number of those present, but the moderator ruled otherwise, and an appeal from his decision was made, on which it was sustained. Notice of an appeal to the synod from the decision was then made. Dr. Alexander read the resolution. The preamble sets forth the fact that Professor Briggs, since his accusation, has supplemented his answer to the charges by answering numerous questions. These questions and answers of Professor Briggs are a part of the preamble. The resolution is to the effect that the presbytery, in view of these latter declarations of Professor Briggs, deem it expedient to arrest further proceedings and discharge the committee from further consideration of the matter.

Dr. Robinson and others protested against the resolution.

Dr. Alexander withdrew his motion to suspend the order of the day. He gave notice, however, that he would renew it after the report of the committee was read. Dr. Birch, chairman of the committee, then read the report. At its conclusion Dr. Alexander re-introduced his resolution for dismissal of the proceedings. A long discussion of this motion followed, and it was finally put to a vote, resulting, yeas 62 (18 elders and 50 clergymen), nays 65 (elders 20, clergymen 44,) thus defeating the motion. Then the original motion was adopted, confirming the recommendations of the committee that Dr. Briggs be served with a copy of the charges and stand trial.

The two votes seemed to indicate that a very small majority are in favor of trying Dr. Briggs. The fact that a majority of the clergy was in favor of shutting off the trial and discharging the committee was very pleasing to Dr. Briggs. He now has ten days in which to make his reply. The proceedings were unusually turbulent, and several times there were calls for a better Christian spirit.

Swallowed Up by the Sea.

POINT REYES, Cala., Oct. 6.—A two-masted steam schooner was noticed Sunday morning anchored in a dangerous place close to the shore in the bight about two miles north of the life-saving station. She had steam up, and moved occasionally in the same vicinity. Her object was a mystery. She had no signals flying, and no one could tell whether she was in distress or not. One of the lighthouse keepers reported she had been seen going northward. However, this morning she seemed anchored in the same dangerous place. Her object there has been ascertained to be the recovery of an immense cargo of steel rails belonging to an English ship that was wrecked at that point several years ago. The name of the schooner is the Lucy Low. Early this morning two of her crew, named Johnson and Hansen, started in a small boat from the schooner to fix a drag. The sea was very calm at the time the men lowered the boat, and no danger was anticipated. The sea suddenly became furious, swells tossed the boat about, and it was soon overturned. The accident was seen by the hands on the deck of the schooner, who had a rope attached to the small boat in which the two men but a short time ago were sitting. The sea had become so furious that the rope was broken and the drowning men were left helpless in their perilous position. The crew lowered a boat as soon as the rope broke, but it was immediately filled with water, and no assistance could be rendered. One man was seen clinging desperately to an oar for a moment and then sank out of sight. The other man clung to the upturned boat for a few minutes, and occasionally his hand could be seen held aloft as a signal for help, but he soon lost his grasp and followed his companion into eternity. The under current is very strong at this point, and it is supposed the men were dragged under. The bodies have not been seen since, and the captain and crew of the Lucy Low are now trying to secure them.

The Rival Steam Yachts.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Mr. Munro, owner of the Norwood, has made another proposition to Chairman Hall, of the American Yacht Club regatta committee. It is that the Vamoose try to make a record over the club's course, and that the Norwood will try and beat it as soon as the necessary repairs have been made. Mr. Hearst says that this will not suit him. He said yesterday: "I want to race, and will not try for any records. Mr. Munro can have all the time he wants to repair his yacht. The Vamoose will wait till he is ready. The race can't take place this fall. I will keep the Vamoose until next summer for the race. I want the fastest yacht afloat. If the Vamoose cannot beat the Norwood I do not want to send her to the Pacific coast, and will not send her there and have Mr. Munro down her speed after she is out of the way." Mr. Hall said he would notify Mr. Munro of Hearst's decision. Mr. Munro says it will take from three to six weeks to repair the Norwood, and the work will be pushed forward as fast as possible.

Wanted to End His Life.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Oct. 7.—A man entered the American Express office this morning and said he wanted to send his watch and money home to Louisville, Ky. The attention of Chief of Police Dana was directed to the man and after a little watching he was arrested. He gave his name as Shannon and said he lived in Louisville, and came to the falls to commit suicide from Prospect Point. On his arrival he had been driven to Prospect Park, but when he saw the popular jumping place his nerve failed him. He returned to town and drank several cocktails to brace himself, and had started to make another attempt when he was arrested. He was allowed to leave for Buffalo.

Edwin Booth's Condition.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—A report came from Boston yesterday that Edwin Booth had been seen in Boston last week, wandering aimlessly about the streets, and that he talked incoherently and unreasonably to a friend whom he met in the street. Stuart Robinson has denied the report. Mr. Booth arrived at the Players' Club in New York from Boston last Sunday evening. He was still there last night. He would not see any one. It was said at the club last evening that Mr. Booth was as well as he has been for several months, and the report that he is demented or is in any way irresponsible for his actions is malicious and without foundation.

TALKING ANNEXATION.

Windsorites Who Advocate Political Union With the States.

A Windsor dispatch says a meeting called for the purpose of discussing the question of the political union of Canada and the United States duly came off. It was called to order with F. P. Boutellier, warden of the county in the chair, and on the platform were Sol White, M.P.P., (Conservative), Dr. O'Brien, ex-M.P., (Liberal), ex-Councillor Davis and Councillor Nash. The speakers of the evening were received with loud cheers and a few hisses.

Mr. Boutellier said the mayor of the town would be the proper man for chairman of the meeting, but being a young man with political expectations he probably did not wish to compromise himself until the cause was found to be successful. There have been prominent politicians in favor of annexation, for example the present premier. The continental unity of the club was not bloody revolutionary organization. The members sought only the fair discussion of the future of Canada. Boutellier then reviewed the many proposals for the future, and said of all those annexation was the best.

Mr. Nash here read a letter from Professor Goldwin Smith, in which he reviewed the history of confederation and declared himself for annexation, urging that the trade question was the immediate one. In the letter the professor said: "We cannot help being especially impressed at present by the failure of confederation to fulfil the promises of its founders. It has not fused together the British and French elements, the difference between which, on the contrary, has been intensified of late. It has not identified the provinces in interest with each other. It has not created inter-provincial trade. It has not added in any tangible manner to our real strength and prosperity. The abuses, the disclosure of which is now shocking and disgracing the country, seem to be largely the consequences of the effort to hold together, as a basis for party government, provinces which, having no natural bond, can be kept under control of a party leader only by bribery in different forms."

Dr. Brien in his speech did not favor bringing about political union by a third party. Like the Jew, Canadians had no home. Both he and Sol White, who followed him, viewed the several proposals for Canada's future, and both favored annexation as the best. At a close meeting a resolution in favor of a policy of annexation was passed unanimously. Sol White said he never denied in parliament that he was in favor of political union, but what he did say was that he was opposed to any but peaceful means in obtaining such results.

CANADIAN NOTES.

The exports from the Ottawa consular district have fallen off very much, largely owing to the strike in the lumber mills.

Shipments of selected dairy products have been sent by the Dominion Government from the Maritime Provinces to England.

James Cowan and Joseph Simard, Government referees—members of the old board of Dominion arbitrators, have been superannuated on account of age.

James Henry Metcalf, member of the Ontario Legislature, has definitely entered the field for the Conservative nomination in the approaching Dominion election in Kingston.

The Globe says: "It is rumored from Washington that the Dominion Government will be asked to name a day for a meeting with Secretary Blaine, between October 25th and December 1st."

Owing to the British tenant farmer delegates, who have been visiting the Maritime Provinces, disregarding the programme prepared for them, the government has decided to have nothing more to do with them.

At Sussex, N. B., some persons entered the tent of Capt. Hemming, Adjutant of the military camp, and stole a check for $833, endorsed by Capt. Stratford; also a check drawn by Deputy Adjutant General Maunsel in favor of Capt. Hemming for $1367, with some $50 in cash.

At a meeting of the Maritime Provinces Presbyterian Synod in Halifax it was resolved to adopt a proposal that a joint Presbyterian and Methodist Committee be appointed to take cognizance of any cases that may arise where unnecessary use of men and modes may exist or be imminent in weak and scattered folds.

A. Chisholm, of Winnipeg, was yesterday committed for trial at the assizes for criminally assaulting little girls under 14 years of age. The detectives gave direct evidence against the accused, having secreted themselves in his office when the little girls were enticed. Bail was fixed at $10,000. Other charges against Chisholm are proceeding.

The cost of substituting steel structures for all wooden trestles on the C.P.R., which has been decided on, is estimated at something over two million dollars, but the directors believe the consequent lessening of the schedule time between Vancouver and Montreal will repay this immense outlay, since the trains will be able to run at considerably higher speed over steel bridges than over the best class wooden trestle work.

After holding out over three weeks, 300 strikers returned to work at Buell, Orr & Hurdman's lumber mill, Ottawa, yesterday morning. The demand for ten hours work per day instead of eleven, was conceded, but the demand for 50 cents a week more was refused. This makes five of the smaller mills which have conceded something to the strikers. The big concerns, employing nearly 3000 men, say there is no chance of their giving in.

For the World's Fair.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The Paris correspondent of the News telegraphs that the replies of the Government circular would indicate a dearth of enthusiasm among the people of France in the matter of sending exhibits to the World's Fair to be held in Chicago. Manufacturers generally, as expressed in their answers regarding the invitation of the United States, believe the request, following as it does upon the adoption of the new American tariff, as a mockery. About 100 Parisian manufacturers and tradesmen announce their intention to exhibit their goods at the fair.

Russia and China.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 6.—The refusal of the Russian Government to join in a European demonstration against China is alleged to be due to the fear that such action on its part would involve Russia in a land war with China after the question had been settled for the other powers concerned, thus giving England a chance to advance her interests in Central Asia at the expense of Russia's interests. It is also said that Russia has no interest in risking an embroglio with China for the sake of the Catholic and Protestant churches in the latter country.

Abyssinia Rebels Squelched.

ROME, Oct. 6.—Advices from Massowah say the forces of General Ras Alula and Delac Langascia successfully made a combined attack on the forces of Debebe, the third aspirant to the Abyssinian throne. The battle was fought near Ambagarima. Debebe was killed and his army totally routed.

On Top of Monte Rosa.

BERNE, Oct. 6.—The Alpine Club is building a hut for signal purposes on the peak of Monte Rosa, at an altitude of nearly 15,000 feet. The hut has the highest site of any building in the world. The queen of Italy has subscribed a large sum towards its erection.

Captain Younghusband Alive.

CALCUTTA, Oct. 5.—A letter received at Simla, Sept. 15, from Captain Younghusband says he has started to return to India. This disposes of the report of Younghusband being murdered.

A Belgian Explorer Dead.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 6.—News has been received of the death of Yan Develde, the Belgian explorer. He died on board the steamer returning from the Congo Free State.

Bad for the Creditors.

A QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO

There settled in Baker county, Oregon, near what is now Baker City, a man who has since become identified with the resources and development of that country. This man is no other than Mr. John Stewart, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens in the county. In a recent letter he says: "I had been suffering from pains in my back and general kidney complaint for some time, and had used many remedies without any but temporary relief. The pains in my back had become so severe that I was prevented from attending to my work and could not move about without the use of a cane. Hearing through a friend, of the wonderful cures effected by Oregon Kidney Tea, I was induced to try a box, and from that very first dose I found instant relief, and before using half the contents of the box the pains in my back entirely disappeared. I have every faith in the virtues of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and can conscientiously recommend it to my friends. I would not be without it for anything."

Oregon Kidney Tea cures backache, incontinence of urine, brick dust sediment, burning or painful sensation while urinating, and all affections of the kidneys or urinary organs of either sex.

DEATH'S BUSY HAND.

Three notable figures have been removed from the scene in the space of little more than a day. The death of Charles Stewart Parnell and William Henry Smith within the short period of a few hours will naturally cause a commotion in the world of politics in Great Britain. Of the two, Parnell has occupied the more prominent place in the view of the public, and in fact has drawn a larger share of public attention at home and abroad than falls to the lot of political leaders generally. Moral weakness caused him to fall from the high position he had attained, but his wonderful work in Ireland's cause will long live in the memories of men: and his erstwhile followers will forget his offences as they revive their recollection of his heroic struggle against mighty odds. On the other hand, there must remain with them and with all friends of Ireland the feeling of regret that the champion should have stained his own name and struck a serious blow at the Home Rule cause just when events seemed to promise decided success. The career of the dead leader is one of the marvels of modern politics. It was more than strange to see the cold, reserved, and self-contained Anglo-Saxon secure and maintain so complete an ascendancy over the mercurial Celts who constituted his following, and his success is the best evidence of his extraordinary force of character. With a clear mental vision and rare strength of will, he gathered into a mighty force the scattered powers of Irish national parties, and moved on steadily and tenaciously towards his object. His disgrace and death make a melancholy ending for a career so brilliant. Home Rule will undoubtedly suffer by his removal from the head of his party, for no one among his colleagues can possibly fill his place and utilise the forces at hand so effectively as he did. Divided command in such a movement means loss of strength.

Mr. Smith was perhaps as remarkable in his position as Mr. Parnell. He was a business man who had built up his own fortune by hard and honorable work. He had no advantage of high descent or family influence to help him at the outset, but his own good qualities secured him success in politics as well as in business. It is unusual to find a man of his stamp seek political alliance with Toryism, and more unusual to see one attain so high a position in the Tory party. His party will find it hard to replace him.

Sir John Pope Hennessy's death at a very short interval after that of Parnell at once calls to mind the memorable contest in North Kilkenny, the outcome of which was a notification to the Irish leader that his offence had caused him the loss of his position. It is seldom that three men so prominent as these are removed by death in so very brief a time.

RYKERT AND HAGGART.

It is pointed out that according to Sir John Thompson's argument in the Section B case, a serious injustice was done to Mr. Rykert. The Minister of Justice contended on behalf of Mr. Haggart that his alleged offence was old and that the accused member had been re-elected since the time of its commission, which must be accepted as a bar to proceedings against him. Both these arguments were used by Rykert, and were certainly as good in his case as in that of the Postmaster-General, but they were not accepted by Sir John Thompson, and the member for Lincoln had to "walk the plank." Why is so wide a difference made between the two cases? It must be because Rykert alone was involved in his scandal, while more than Haggart would be affected by the continuation of the Section B affair. There was a serious dilemma before the Government and its followers. They must either allow an investigation and see the remains of their party's reputation wiped out, or they must vote down the proposal and leave people to draw the inevitable conclusion that there was a method in the refusal to have the matter thoroughly investigated. It is a question which party will be most injured by the exposure, but it is a matter of regret that either should be injured at all. The Government could have avoided the necessity of making the choice between the two evils by not having anything to do with the Section B business. It is not the first time that it has been forced into a position from which there is no escape except through the exposure of something which it would have been better for it to have had covered up. They no doubt chose the latter alternative as likely to be the least dangerous.

A CHALLENGE TO THE LEDGER.

TO THE EDITOR,—It is observed that the New Westminster Ledger, true to its sectional instincts and regardless of facts, no matter how plain they may be, takes the trouble to show that the population of Victoria cannot be 22,500, let alone 25,000, as shown by the recent civic census.

If the Ledger man or any other "smart Aleck" feels inclined to back up his opinion with coin I will wager him $1000 that the figures 25,900 show within 500, at most, the actual population of Victoria at this time. If he wishes to test the matter he can have enumerators appointed by whom he pleases, the only right that I reserve being that of appointing men to follow up his enumerators and see that they do not conveniently leave out a portion of the population. A census of the city can be taken for about $500, so that the Ledger editor has now a pretty good thing in sight, especially as he already knows how it will turn out. Address—

CORRECTING FALSE STATEMENTS.

TO THE EDITOR,—You refer in last evening's issue to my notice to the District Telegraph Company to remove their wire attachments from my property, and in commenting on it make false statements. Now, sir, you state that the wire in question does not go nearer than two feet of my property. This applied to the date of the notice is an unqualified mistatement; for the north wire was so near the cornice at the northeast corner of No. 86 Government street, that I could not see from the sidewalk whether it touched or not. You say that in both cases it runs straight away from the building. Now that was not so at the date of the notice, and is utterly false. On Monday I told Springer and his foreman that if the wires were not removed, I would see that they were. Subsequently I wrote the notice. On Tuesday morning the wire near the northeast corner remained where first placed. Later in the day it was lifted above the cornice. Subsequently the same day that wire was entirely taken away, and attached to a post nearer the postoffice and then connected with the north side of Campbell's store. This was done about 5 p.m., so Mr. Bremer said, by his order. So your statement as applied to my notice is another misstatement. The southern wire is now attached to a portion of the old bank building, within eight or ten inches of my property. So your statement that the wire is not nearer than two feet is still as much astray as your other statement. I trust you will publish this note, to correct the false statements.

The steamer Yosemite did not arrive from Vancouver until 3 o'clock this morning, having waited for a delayed train.

People say the Dominion Hotel is the place for a 25 cent meal. Twenty-one meal tickets for $4.50.

A man named Anthony Dougall, a laborer for the C.P.R., at Vancouver was killed on Monday by being run over by a gravel train.

Several carloads of new styles antique oak bedroom suites, sideboards, extension tables, hall racks, etc., just received by Weiler Bros.

A workman on the Union Company's new steamers at Vancouver, named Edwin McLeod, was severely injured by falling from a scaffold on Monday.

His Lordship Bishop Hills will administer the rights of confirmation at St. Paul's Church, Esquimalt, on Sunday, the 18th inst., after the evening service.

Ask your grocer for Okell & Morris' jams.

A number of Indians found gambling were yesterday brought before Provincial Police Sergeant Langley. As the culprits appeared to be deeply penitent, and as the winner of his fellows' money seemed anxious to make restitution, with a promise of never offending again, Mr. Langley sent them off with a lecture, warning them against the serious consequences of a second offence.

The Belgian authorities are taking steps to put a stop to the bull fights which have recently disgraced the town of Spa. The fighting has aroused the indignation of English tourists and others, who made representations on the subject to the police, with the result that the sport is to be forbidden in future.

Three Carpenters Killed.

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Oct. 6.—Three carpenters named Ceres, Brown and Proctor, at work on a bridge on the narrow gauge near Tomales, were killed this morning, being run into by a train. They were working with a large gang of men at the time. Several others were also injured.

MEN WHO WEAR CORSETS.

More of Them Than the Public Has An Idea of, Says a Dealer.

A good-looking young man who dropped his cane on Sixth avenue a few evenings since, evidently experienced great difficulty in stooping to pick it up. "That fellow wears corsets," remarked a gentleman. Inquiry at a store where such things are sold, says the New York News, showed that the gentleman's remark was probably true. "A large number of young men in this city wear corsets," said the clerk in charge of that department. "Indeed, you have not the slightest idea how many wear them. They are worn for various purposes. Stout men wear them to reduce corpulency, stoop-shouldered men so that they will walk erect and widen their chests, and other men in the hope that they will thus gain a handsome figure.

"Men's corsets can be had from three to twenty-five dollars, according to the means and inclination of the purchaser. They are made of the same material, except that whalebone is substituted for steel, as a woman's corset, but are somewhat different in shape, being like a ten-inch belt curved to fit over the hips. They lace in the back and are tightened in front by means of elastic bands. They are much easier than braces, and hence are more popular. Indeed, I believe, it is only a question of a few years when corsets will be commonly worn by men."

A Pathetic Record.

The ex-Empress Eugenie, during her recent visit to France, was called upon to fill up a census paper. She made the entries in her own handwriting, made tremulous by rheumatism, and there is a great deal of history and no little pathos in the brief record: "Countesse de Pierrefond (Marie Eugenie), age 64; born at Grenada, Spain; naturalized French; a widow, had one child—a son; lives on her income; of no profession or business; a sojourner in France; lives usually in England; is traveling with two friends and four servants."

MEN WHO FORGET.

Humorous Instances of Absent-Mindedness of Great Men.

John B. Gough used to be taken with unexpected spells of forgetfulness when addressing an audience. As is well known, he rehearsed his early lectures in a cabbage field. On one occasion, says the Evening Wisconsin, he stood up before a fashionable audience and could not recall one word of his lecture. He repeated the preliminary address, but there he stuck. At last he exclaimed, despairingly: "Oh, for my beloved cabbage heads!"

In a few moments the inspiration came, and as he recalled with vivid effect his lost illustration he said, thankfully:

"I am glad you are not cabbage heads now!"

The failing memory of age is termed in medical diction amentia. Emerson suffered from it when he could not remember the name of an umbrella but asked his daughter for "that thing you hold up when it rains." He attended the funeral of Longfellow and at the grave he paused and said: "He was a beautiful spirit whom we have just buried here, but I cannot remember the name."

When grandfather goes around looking everywhere for his glasses, which are reposing safely on his benevolent old forehead, then memory is playing him a trick and he laughs at it with that philosophy which is the alchemy of age.

The Beggars of Paris.

A clever Frenchman has just been taking the statistics of the charities of Paris, which are immense in volume, and he finds that three-fourths of the colossal sum which they represent is absorbed by professional beggars. He gives a very amusing account of the devices which they adopt for getting this enormous sum, and for living in idleness upon it, and his conclusion is that the whole system of almsgiving must be reformed. If something is not done soon he thinks that the deserving poor will be entirely crowded out by the fakirs. There are well-known mendicants in Paris who have plied their trade until they have become rich, and who are yet undisturbed by the police.

A Baltimore Freak.

A Baltimore freak is a frog of good size and a trifle light in color, but apparently not different from any other frog. The freakishness developed when his frogship was worried, when instead of hopping off or giving utterance to the deep, sonorous note usually heard from frogs, he simply opened his mouth and cried. The frog is nothing if not human, and suggests, both in tone and volume, a bad, peevish child. The cry is not a single note, but several, and is continued even after the annoyance ceases.

The Harvest Home.

The ladies of the pretty little church of St. Saviour's, Victoria West, are making active preparations for holding the harvest home on Sunday next. The decorations promise to be very pretty and tasteful. On Sunday, the 18th inst., a similar service will take place at St. Paul's, Esquimalt.

In Poultry Interests.

The Poultry Standard is a new journal published at Seattle in poultry interests. It is a brightly written publication. Speaking of a visit to Victoria, reference is made to Dr. Milne, Mr. King, Mr. McLennan and several other gentlemen devoted to the production of fine-bred poultry.

A Copper Roof.

The Port Townsend custom-house will soon be ready for its fine copper roof. It will be one of the few buildings on this coast that can boast of a roof made of this expensive material. If the Canadian Government did the fair thing by Victoria, the custom-house here would be roofed with gold.

Sign of a Boom.

The water pipes which adorned the streets of Mission City at the time of the great sale of lots there a few months ago, have been removed to North Bend. These pipes have travelled extensively, and wherever they appear, a boom is said to follow. It will now be in order to watch for a boom at North Bend.—Columbian.

Judgment Reserved.

Hon. Theo. Davie, Attorney-General, who has been up to Vancouver to hear the Hallett case, has listened to both sides. Mr. J. J. Blake appeared for the complainants. Mr. L. G. McPhillips, solicitor for Mr. Hallett, being absent from the city, his written argument was handed in by Mr. Hallett. Mr. Davie reserved judgment.

Lepers Must Go.

On Saturday a writ was served upon the Canadian Pacific Railway Company at the instance of the city of Vancouver, to require the defendants to forward the Chinese lepers, now under guard, to their destination and to indemnify the plaintiffs for all costs incurred in the case. An effort will be made to make the Customs Department co-defendants.

Geo. Arthur Holloway, third son of Robert Holloway, died at Seattle yesterday. He was only 17 years of age.

Change of Ownership.

Capt. John G. Cox has purchased from Mr. A. Gregg the house and lot situated on King's Road, and will use the same as his residence in the future. The property is very nicely located, and will make a snug harbor for the captain when he moors for a quiet rest. It is stated that $6000 is the amount of purchase money paid for the place by Capt. Cox.

The Fannie Dutard Afloat.

The schooner Fannie Dutard which was injured in a collision with the steamer Zambezi, and which has been repaired on the Star ways, was launched this afternoon. She will go south the end of the week, and will return shortly to load at Port Blakely. Capt. Chas. Dillon will, in all probability, have command during Capt. Peterson's absence attending the trial of the case.

Mr. Elworthy Explains.

Referring to the letter of Mr. John Jessop's in this morning's Colonist, Mr. Elworthy, secretary of the Board of Trade, says that the mistake on the part of the printer and proof reader was in a measure pardonable, as the copy could easily be taken to read as printed, and as it also reads sense, the error was less liable to detection. Mr. Elworthy has submitted the copy to experts, who bear him out in his statement.

Royal Arch Chapter.

There was a meeting of the Royal Arch Chapter last evening for the special purpose of installing officers. The ceremony was performed by Excellent Companion B. Williams, assisted by Excellent Companion A. McKeown, and the following officers were installed: Dr. Quinlan, 1st Principal Z.; P. J. Richardson, 2nd Principal H.; H. Stewart, 3rd Principal J.; E. Langley, Scribe E.; B. S. Oddy, Scribe N.; C. E. Renouf, Treasurer; J. L. Stamford, 1st Sojourner; A. Rusta, 2nd Sojourner; Dr. G. L. Milne, Director of Ceremonies; Thos. Cuniff, Janitor.

Their Opening Dance.

The Comus Club's opening dance, held at Philharmonic Hall last evening, was a decided success. There were not as many present as usual, but the members could hardly expect a crowd at a ball on the occasion of the first dance. The same sociable crowd that attended last year were present however, and a thoroughly enjoyable time was spent. Prof. Pierdner and his orchestra supplied the music. A number of new members have joined the club and all the old ones still attend. Dances will be held monthly during the season, which ensures a number of pleasant evenings for the members of the Comus and their friends.

An Appreciated Gift.

The Gutta Percha and Rubber Company of Toronto, through their agent, Mr. W. L. Ogle, made a present of $25 to the coffee fund of the Victoria firemen. The boys will remember the donors after a night fire.

Two Whiskey Cases.

In the Provincial police court this morning, M. O'Brien and Jimmy, an Indian, arrested yesterday by Officer Tom James, were charged with having whiskey in their possession while on the Indian reserve. Mr. Robt. Ward, J.P., who was on the bench, fined the prisoners $50 each, or in default two months in prison at hard labor.

A Littered Street.

The ties and rails for the Pandora street extension of the street car lines, have for the past many days been an inconvenience and general nuisance to the citizens who have had occasion to use that thoroughfare. Complaints are many, and a general objection is made to the delay of the company in placing the things in position, and putting the street shipshape.

Thrown From His Horse.

An accident, attended by what may prove serious results, occurred to Mr. H. C. Beeton this morning. He was out for a morning ride, during which the horse suddenly shied, throwing him heavily to the ground, where he was subsequently found stunned and bleeding. The shock was a very severe one. Dr. Hannington attended the injured gentleman at once, and this afternoon the patient is resting quietly.

The Cafe Royal.

The Cafe Royal, named after the great European cafe, is the name of a new place of business to be opened in the handsome corner store of the Turner block, facing on Douglas and View streets. Messrs. Jessurun and Wormser are the proprietors. Weiler Bros. are putting in the fittings, which are to be very elaborate. The estimated cost of furnishing contracts already made amounts to $5000, and no additional expense is to be spared in fitting up. It is the intention to conduct the establishment on the basis of the best known European cafes.

Needs Attention.

A few years ago there was established in Victoria a society for the cruelty to animals. They brought a few cases before the city police magistrate, but for some time have not been heard. It is not frequently that their services are required, but nevertheless there is once in a while a case that needs the attention of some one. If a man with authority would walk around the streets where horses are standing in wagons, hacks, etc., he would find a few animals that are not fit to drive. For instance, to-day there has been a horse pulling a heavy hack with a frightful "gall" on his shoulder.

News From High Latitudes.

Sir James Grant, of Ottawa, says:—"To secure health in our Canadian climate pure wool undervests are very necessary, and I feel confident you have accomplished a good work in the production of the 'Health' Brand, which cannot fail to meet the requirements of our people. Wishing you every possible degree of success in this line of manufacture so scientific and practical. Yours, etc." The above speaks for itself, and every lady who desires a light, luxurious, and comfortable undervest will find all these qualities combined in the Health Brand, for sale by J. Hutcheson & Co., 70 Government street, Victoria.

Three Serious Charges.

John Cleary, who was sent up for trial by the City Magistrate this morning for stealing a number of carpenters' tools, seems to have been trying to reap a harvest since his arrival in the city. On September 13, P. Nelson's cabin, near Swan Lake, was robbed and when Cleary was arrested the missing goods, consisting of a gun and several other articles, were found in his possession. A coat and a $20 bill taken at the same time could not be found. The Provincial police will take charge of him and bring him up in their court to-morrow. After they have finished with him Officer Redgrave will lay another charge against him in the City Police Court. This will make just three charges against him, all of them pretty serious.

Auction Sale of Real Estate.

Mr. Geo. Byrnes, auctioneer, this morning disposed of a lot of valuable land on and near Langford Plains. The bidding was lively and the property brought good prices. Section 99, containing 114 acres of Langford Plains, was sold to Mr. Jackson at $13 an acre. Section 113, containing 143 acres, adjoining section 99, was sold to the same party at the same price. Section 112, containing 68 acres, was bought by F. S. Barnard for $6.50 an acre. Sections 116 and 85, containing 141 acres, were divided into four lots. They have a frontage of 12½ chains on Langford Lake. Lot 1, 39½ acres, went to F. S. Barnard at $10 an acre. Lots 2 and 3, containing 36¼ and 33¼ acres, respectively, were bought by Mr. Jackson for $9 an acre. Mr. Jackson also bought lot 4, containing 34 acres, at $10 an acre. Sections 67 and 68, containing 100 acres each, were sold at a private bid for $10 an acre.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

Quarterly Meeting.

The quarterly general meeting of the British Columbia Board of Trade will be held in their rooms in the Bank of British Columbia building on Friday at 8 p.m. The principal business to come up is Mr. Renouf's motion re the Board of Trade building and the forming of a company to erect the proposed building.

Coming North.

The steamer Umatilla sailed from San Francisco this morning with the following passengers for Victoria: Mrs. J. Hume and daughter, P. J. Davies and wife, Mrs. Hutchenson, G. Taylor, T. Taylor, G. A. Green, Minnie Owens, T. J. Jackson; Alph J. Smith, T. Mason, Miss McArthur and J. S. Booker and wife.

The Trip to Tacoma.

Already many of Victoria's citizens have purchased tickets for the excursion to Tacoma on Saturday, when the great exposition will be visited. The trip will be a good one, and in addition to the regular attraction of the exposition, several other features are to be placed on the list. Victorians appreciate the neighborliness of the citizens across the line, and a pleasant trip is assured.

Cedar Hill.

The harvest thanksgiving in St. Luke's yesterday was largely attended. The Bishop took part in the service, and the sermon was preached by the Archdeacon. The offertory was the largest taken in the church since its consecration. After the service a sale of work in aid of the organ fund took place, and in the afternoon a sum sufficient was realized to wipe out the expense connected with the purchase of the church and school organs. The services will be continued on Sunday morning 11 o'clock. The decorations are in advance of former years.

Firemen's Tournament Finances.

Last evening the finance committee of the firemen's tournament met, and with Mr. T. J. Burnes in the chair, the bills against the general committee were gone through with, audited and passed for payment. Those who put in bills can have their money by calling upon Ald. H. A. Munn, the treasurer. It is understood that a small balance has been left over after all the expenses have been deducted from the total receipts. This speaks well for the financial ability of those who have had the affair in hand. A complete list of the suscribers, with the amounts paid, will be kept on file in Chief Deasy's office, and is open at any time for the inspection of those interested.

The Other Story.

The story told by the man Trembly about the attempted murder of his family at San Juan is completely changed by that told by the alleged murderer, who proves to be a French settler named Techere, rather advanced in years. The sum and substance of his story is that Trembly owes him a considerable amount of money, which he has never been able to get. He went to Trembly's house to make a request for his money, which Trembly not only refused to give, but attacked him in a vicious manner, both kicking and cutting him. He denies using either knife or axe, and is perfectly willing to have his case tested by the law. Sergeant Walker is communicating with the sheriff of San Juan as to what shall be done with Techere. Meanwhile the latter is in the city lock-up.

The Wolfe Crystal Wedding.

Sunday evening last was the occasion of the celebration of the crystal wedding of Mr. and Mrs. William Wolfe at their residence, 13 Menzies street. The interior of the home of the Wolfes was handsomely decorated with flowers and ferns and, together with the pretty toilets of the ladies, presented a pleasing aspect. Mr. Wolfe proved himself to be an efficient host in the manner in which he provided the means of enjoyment for all his guests. The upper floor of the Wolfe domicile was arranged for card playing, which pastime was indulged in by the the elder portion of the gathering, whist and euchre being the preferred games. The lower part of the house was used by the younger folks for singing and dancing, recitations and pleasant conversations. The early part of the evening was devoted to a musicale in which the guests, whose names are herewith appended, took part: Song, "The Lost Chord," by Mrs. Clarke; piano selection, Miss Bertha Frank; song, "Sweethearts and Wives," by Chas. R. Heverin; Mendelssohn's Wedding March (piano), by Miss Kate Davis; song, "Sleep, My Love, Sleep," Miss Wolfe; recitation, "Spartacus to the Gladiators," Mr. Julius Wormser; quartette, selection, "Sunrise," by Clipper Club (Mr. Lewis, tenor; Wormser, alto; Sherman, baritone; Kurtz, bass); comic recitation, "The Kitchen of the Whist Club," by Mr. B. Moose; trio, by Mrs. Clarke and the Misses Wolfe; song, by little Frances Moose. All the numbers were admirably rendered and reflect great credit on the participants. At the conclusion of the programme Mr. Wolfe made some happy and pleasing remarks. At 11 o'clock the guests partook of a sumptuous repast in the spacious dining rooms. Toasts were given and responded to, Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe receiving some very flattering encomiums. Among those present were the following: Mr. and Mrs. A. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. B. Moose, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Aaronson, Mr. and Mrs. P. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Frank, Mr. and Mrs. R. Davis, Miss Bertha Frank, Misses Clara and L. Phillips, Miss Katie Davis, the Misses Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. B. Levy, Messrs. Julius Wormser, Chas. R. Heverin, Walter C. Kurtz, David Phillips, J. Close, H. Jessemin, Armand Vogel, — Sherman, B. Phillips, Mrs. Lyons, Mr. Meyer, Mr. Hoffman, C. Davis, Mr. A. Lewis, J. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. M. Cohen, and numerous others.

CHINESE - SUGARS; - WHAT - IT - IS - WE - MAY - BE - EATING!

In view of the introduction to the Province recently of considerable quantities of Chinese Sugars, it may be as well that the Public should be informed, on the very highest possible authority, of the danger that may be attendant upon their use.

Professor Cameron, Public Analyst, Dublin, a gentleman who has made it his special business to examine all kinds of Foreign Sugars, Refined and other, says that certain kinds of them should never be used. He states that they contain great numbers of DISGUSTING INSECTS, which produce a DISGUSTING DISEASE. Their shape is very accurately shown in the accompanying cut, which is magnified two hundred diameters. Figure 1 is the under side, and Figure 2 the upper. The Professor's description is as follows:—

"This insect ('the Acarus Sacchari') is a formidably organized, exceedingly lively, and decidedly ugly little animal. From its oval-shaped body stretches forth a proboscis terminating in a kind of scissors, with which it seizes its food. Its organs of locomotion consist of eight legs, each jointed and furnished at its extremity with a hook. In the Sugar its movements from one place to another are necessarily very slow, but when placed on a perfectly clean and dry surface, it moves along with great rapidity." He adds that the number of "Acari" found in Unrefined Sugar is "sometimes exceedingly great, and in no instance is the article quite free from either the insects or their eggs." He further says:—"The Acari Sacchari" do not occur in Refined Sugar of any quality, because they cannot pass through the charcoal filters of the Refinery, and because Refined Sugar does not contain any nitrogenous substance upon which they can feed."

COOLIE - MADE - AND - ALL - UNREFINED - SUGARS - SHOULD - NEVER - BE - USED!

Besides its being impossible for Canadian Labor to compete with Coolie Labor, rice fed and under paid, it is well known that Eastern Countries have always been the breeding ground for leprosy and all other loathsome and horrible human diseases, and hand labor there is so cheap that there is no inducement to employ machinery. Home Refined Sugar, on the contrary, is never touched by the human hand from the moment it reaches the refiner until it leaves him a perfectly safe and purified article.

☞ Use, therefore, Only Home Refined Sugars; They Are Absolutely Unadulterated, Pure and Cheap. ☜

NANAIMO NEWS.

ODIUM THEOLOGICUM.

NANAIMO, Oct. 6.—There appears to have been quite a crusade preached against the doctrines of Samuel Putnam in the different churches of this city on Sunday evening last. That gentleman will find, if he should venture to hold his argument with Mr. McRae, that his audience will prove to be strong believers in the divine origin of the Bible, which is to be the subject of discussion. The members of the Presbyterian Church would rather their minister had treated the challenge with contempt, as they are of the opinion that it was issued with the object of making money.

DESERTED.

Captain Blackburn, of the steamer Montserrat, now lying at the Nanaimo wharves, offers a reward to anyone who will capture and take on board the fourth mate and physician of the steamer, who deserted the vessel immediately after their arrival in this port. In all probability the mate will make his way to Victoria, as several of the amateur detectives in this city are on his trail.

SADLY MOURNED.

It is reported from an authentic source that W. T. Hampshire, the contractor for the Episcopal Church in Cedar district, has skipped out and left the work unfinished and a number of his men unpaid. It appears that on Monday week last he drew $700 from the Rev. Mr. Miller to pay his men and for materials but since that time he has not been seen. He had paid a few of the men part of the wages due, but still owes them a large balance. One man named Brown, who worked for him claims he had $100 coming. Several others also nearly reach this sum. It is expected that the congregation will be asked to make good some of the deficiency for materials.

LITTLE EVENTS.

The elders of the Presbyterian church have decided to erect another large church on Milford square and sell their present property.

The Imperial Stock Company played to a crowded house at their first opening last evening.

The Wellington football club have issued a challenge to the Nanaimo football club to play a match at Diver lake on Saturday next.

It is stated that the position of postmaster for Wellington will be offered to the Rev. Mr. Christie.

Forty-one Horses Burned.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 6.—The barn of the Manhattan Malting Company, at Manhattan, Gallatin Co., was destroyed by fire yesterday while the employees were at breakfast. The fire was caused by the bursting of a lantern. There were 91 horses in the barn at the time. The men got out 50 of them, but four of the rescued were so badly burned that they had to be killed. The other 41 had to be abandoned, and were burned to death. Three thousand bushels of oats and other feed was destroyed. Loss $10,000; insured.

Struck by a Train.

STAPLETON, S.I., Oct. 6.—A wagon belonging to the National Meat Market of Erastina, with four occupants, consisting of a man, woman and two children, was struck by a westbound train on the Amboy Division of the Staten Island Rapid Transit Railway at a crossing in Gifford this morning. The man and woman were instantly killed and their bodies were hurled a considerable distance. The children were picked up in a dying condition and removed to the nearest house.

Ended Life With a Rope.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Henry J. Pronk, a Frenchman, 49 years old, committed suicide by hanging this morning. Pronk squandered a fortune of $60,000 on the race track, and frequently threatened to kill himself. He came to this city from Paris two years ago. At one time he was director of the Rhine Art Academy of Cologne.

Punished for Abduction.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Robert Bell, assistant sexton of the Calvary Presbyterian church, convicted last week on a charge of abduction, was sentenced today by Judge Irving to five years' imprisonment and a fine of $1000.

Robbed by Burglars.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—During the absence of the family last night, burglars entered the premises of Mrs. John D. Yost and robbed the place of family jewels, plate, clothing, and other costly things.

MUNICIPAL ASSESSMENT.

TO THE EDITOR.—There is a question in connection with the extension of the city limits, and the preparation of the city assessment roll for this year, which requires careful consideration. I am informed that the land taken into the city by the extension of the limits has not been included in the roll. The Legislative statute bearing on the subject says in effect, that the assessor shall once in every year prepare an assessment roll in which he shall set down a full description of all taxable property within the municipality, showing the extent, value and amount thereof. The statute also empowers the council after the final revision of the roll, to levy a rate on all the property upon the assessment roll. The rate is governed by the financial requirements of the municipality. In most municipalities it is limited to one and one-half cents on the dollar, but in this city, by a section of the "Water Works Act" the rate cannot exceed one and one-third of one per cent. The effect of this should be, that the rate is higher or lower in proportion to the total assessed value of taxable property. It is obviously important that the assessor should include in the roll all taxable land within the city limits. If a portion is omitted the rate upon the property assessed will be higher than it should be; and the question of exempting or levying a reduced rate upon "improvements" may also be injuriously affected.

The reason advanced for not including the land in the city assessment roll is, that it was assessed last year by the Provincial assessor, and the tax collected this year by the Government.

It would undoubtedly be unfair to compel the owners of this property to pay a tax upon it for Provincial, and another for Municipal purposes in the same year; but as I read the statute, the Government are precluded from collecting a tax on real estate within a Municipality.

To fully understand this part of the question necessitates reference to the Municipal Acts of 1889 and 1890; the Provincial Assessment Act, and the action of the Government in connection with the extension of the city limits. The Municipal Acts referred to (but which are now repealed) authorized an extension of city limits under practically these conditions:

If one-third of the Municipal Council affirm by resolution the expediency of such extension. If the question of the extension shall have first been submitted to the electors and their assent obtained in the manner the act provides. If the consent of the majority of the persons within the boundaries of the proposed extension affected thereby and who are entitled to petition for incorporation as a municipality has first been obtained at a poll to be held for that purpose. The act also authorizes the Government to decide as to the time, manner and place at which the persons entitled to vote upon the proposed extension shall do so. The final act is the Lieut.-Governor-in-Council deciding, to and issuing letters patent, making and defining the extension of the Municipal limits.

A by-law for the extension of the city limits met with the approval of the electors of Victoria on 2nd December, 1890. The Government authorized the taking of a poll on 5th January, 1891, of the persons then outside the city limits, and lastly issued the letters patent making the extension on 8th January, 1891. I will now ask you to consider the operation of the Provincial Assessment Act. The assessment roll upon which taxes are due and collectible in 1891, is prepared and revised in 1890. The taxes levied and collected thereunder are due and payable on 2nd January, 1891. The Act expressly exempts from Provincial taxation "land within the limits of a Municipality." The 35th section also says:

"The provisions of this Act as regards the tax on real estate shall not apply to, nor shall any taxes on real estate be assessed, levied, or collected thereunder in any municipality."

By this clause, as I understand it, the Government are prohibited from doing three things, viz: Assessing, levying, or collecting within a Municipality a tax on real estate. The real property affected by the extensions (if within the limits of a Municipality) came within such by the act of the Provincial Government on 8th January, 1891. The Provincial tax on real property which had been no doubt properly assessed, and levied in 1890, became due and collectable on 2nd January, 1891. Six days afterwards, viz., on 8th Jan. 1891, the Government by issuing letters patent brought this land, upon which a tax had been levied and was then due at the Provincial Treasury, within the boundaries of the City of Victoria; while at the same time the 35th section of the Provincial Assessment Act precludes the collection thereunder of a provincial tax on real property in a municipality. If, as I contend, the provincial authorities have collected a tax which the Act does not contemplate, there is a proper remedy, the money can be refunded in a legal manner; but if a large portion of taxable land is intentionally omitted from the municipal assessment roll, when the statute does not authorize such a course, and the courts decide it has been illegally done, the consequences will be most serious.

Whether I am right or wrong in my construction of the Assessment Act, I think anyone will admit that there is not any section of the Municipal Act which exempts this land from municipal assessment. ROBERT BEAVEN.

Mothers

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses 35 cents.

The Famine in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 6.—The famine in Poland is growing worse. Workmen paraded the streets of Zewerike tonight, and looted the baker shops, and other places in which eatables are to be obtained. Troops were summoned to the scene, and fired upon the mob, killing one workman and wounding several others. By order of the Czar no court balls will be given during the coming season's winter festivities. The money usually devoted to such entertainments will be devoted to the relief of the famine sufferers.

Massacre Report Discredited.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 6.—Dr. Plutarco Ornalus, the Mexican consul to this city, was asked concerning the alleged massacre of 200 white colonists in Sabancingo district, State of Hidalgo, Mexico, by Indians. He stated that the published report was the first intimation he had received of the affair, although he receives daily reports by telegraph from the seat of the government of Mexico. "I am convinced," said he, "that the report is unfounded or that it has been greatly exaggerated. The story of the massacre, as given by Parton, looks very improbable, to say the least. I have telegraphed to the Secretary of Foreign Affairs in the City of Mexico, asking him as to the truth of the report."

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it had cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

THE NEW WELLINGTON COAL

House and Steam (Coal) are mined by this Company only.

THE "NANAIMO" COAL gives a large percentage of Gas, a high Illuminating Power unequalled by any other bituminous Gas Coal in the world, and a superior quality of Coke.

THE "SOUTH FIELD" COAL is now used on all the Leading Steamship Lines on the Pacific.

THE "NEW WELLINGTON" COAL which was introduced early in the present year, has already become a favorite fuel for domestic purposes. It is a clean, hard coal, makes a bright and cheerful fire, and its lasting qualities make it the most economical fuel in the market.

The several Mines of the Company are connected with their Wharves at Nanaimo and Departure Bay where ships of the largest tonnage can be loaded at all states of the tide. Special dispatch is given to Mail and Ocean steamers.

THE TURF.

ROSIE C. AND BISHOP HERO.

Pressure of space and time yesterday presented the publication of another side of this story to the one which appeared from the standpoint of a looker on at the race. Harry Stone, Rosie C's driver, was openly accused of pulling the little black mare. She, it must be remembered, is a pacer, and not a trotter. In the first heat she got a good lead and could easily have kept it; she led so much that she nearly shut Hero out altogether, and probably would have done so had she not answered a slight encouragement of the whip by breaking. When she doesn't pace she can't do the mile in three minutes, and it was his efforts to get the mare back into her paces that caused the loss of the second heat. It was well known that she was altogether unbalanced Monday, and Harry was placed in the difficult position of being behind a green mare to him, with two straight heats to win a race. Had he commenced the race with her he would have had an opportunity of becoming acquainted with her disposition, and no doubt would have won the race. The public is too often inclined to judge precipitately, and it was so in this case. Stone had a mount behind Molly Cooper, for which he was well paid. The judges called upon him to leave this for Rosie C. He did so, and here is the result.

Now, as to the charge of pulling. It was scarcely worth his while, in view of his many interests in Victoria, to risk a first class reputation on a single race. As a matter of fact he was called upon and offered $500 to lose the race, and refused the offer point blank, stating he would not do so for twice the sum. There was not a man on the track or in the pools with money enough to induce him to lose the race, because he felt he could win it. He now makes a special demand on the Jockey Club for a full investigation into the facts of the case, and after hearing evidence either censure or exonerate him, as the circumstances warrant. At present he is placed in an unfair and unfavorable light, but he is not afraid of an investigation. The secretary of the Jockey Club has been written to accordingly, and no doubt in fairness and justice to a driver whose honesty has always been unimpeached, the Club will grant an enquiry.

Mr. Blundele Maple, M.P., the leviathan furniture dealer in England, showed his shrewd sense in snapping up Common, the winner of the Guineas, Derby and St. Leger. Some people thought that he paid an enormous figure when he handed over a cheque for $75,000 for the triple winner, but his judgment has been amply justified, as a few days ago he refused an offer from Austria of $100,000 for his horse. This is a handsome profit in hard cash, to say nothing of the big free advertisement he has received through the purchase.

BASEBALL.

Portland defeated Spokane at Portland on Sunday with a score of 10 to 9, thus making doubly sure of the Pacific Northwest league's pennant.

The Seattle and Spokane teams have disbanded. Tacoma and Portland will play three exhibition games to close the close.

A PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE.

Baseball enthusiasts will now begin making a move to form a Pacific coast league, taking in California, Oregon and Washington. They want a coast city to take Spokane's place in the league. Victoria is the most favorably located city to take the vacant place, but some of the players object to it on account of it being on the Canadian side. They think that there is not enough interest shown in baseball here. Victorians should make an effort and show them that this is not the case.

MISCELLANEOUS.

John McLellan reached town last evening with two huge panthers, measuring about seven feet each.

The first paper chase of this season will take place on Saturday next, starting from Stadacona at 3 p.m. sharp.

FROM UNKNOWN LANDS.

Lieut. Schwatka Returns from an Alaskan Exploring Trip.

Lieutenant Fred. Schwatka and Dr. Hayes came down on the Yosemite from Vancouver at an early hour this morning, the two gentlemen having reached the terminal city yesterday by the steamer Mexico, which came in from Juneau.

Lieut. Schwatka is an explorer of world-wide fame, and this, his latest expedition, is not the least interesting of previous ones. His trip this time was into the interior of Alaska, he, with Dr. Haynes and two other white men and a party of Indians having left Juneau early in May, and took canoe up Takou inlet and river to the head of boat navigation, when a portage of 80 miles through Ptarmigan pass was made and Newbegry river struck. This was descended about 150 miles to the Yukon, where the lieutenant's explorations of 1883 were ended.

From here a march was made to old Fort Selkirk, where more Indians for packing were engaged, and a southwesterly course was made for about 225 miles. The country at first was open and rolling, but it got very rough as the Elias Alps were neared.

When the mountains were reached the Indians left the party, and the four white men took their own packs, after throwing away all useless weight, and a bold push for a pass to the coast through the mountain range was made.

Their progress was very slow, sometimes only three or four miles a day being made. Shortness of provisions added to their difficulties, and the cold from the ice masses was at times intense, made worse by the burning rays of a summer sun in the valleys. Fording streams was the hardest work, as the drift ice made it dangerous.

All got exhausted, and it was determined to build a boat, and take to the Nees-a-nar River, which flowed through the mountains to Copper River. A boat frame was made of willows, and covered with the canvas of their beds and packs. In this frail craft the hardy adventurers set sail, and after a trying time shot through 35 miles of rapids, which at times were most fearful, the river boiling through canyons whose precipitous walls towered 800 feet on either hand.

After numerous hair-breadth escapes from wreck and death, the Copper River was struck, and Indians found. The latter would not believe that the white men came down the Nees-a-nar River, as no Indians will run the risk, it being so dangerous.

From the mouth of the Copper River the voyageurs worked along the coast, reaching Juneau just in time to catch the steamer Mexico, bound north. During the trip 200 photographs were taken, and Dr. Hayes made a complete set of maps for the U. S. Geological survey. Lieut. Schwatka was in the service of the New York Ledger, and will prepare a series of interesting articles for other papers.

The trip throughout was exciting and full of adventure. The explorers travelled through about 600 miles of unknown country, and succeeded in penetrating the St. Elias range, something never before accomplished. Both Lieut. Schwatka and Dr. Hayes are glad to get back to the comforts of civilization, and appreciate thankfully the hospitality of a hotel. They will leave for the States in a day or two.

Reversing in Dancing.

If one were dancing for show or dancing for pleasure in solitude, says the Saturday Review, reversing would be a variation of the proceedings with a good deal to be said for it. As things are, however, reversing in respectable ballrooms causes collisions or perils of collisions nine times out of ten, and so few couples can reverse with complete success that in the tenth instance those who reverse invariably produce the impression that they are showing off at the expense of their less artful neighbors (which impression is usually correct). There cannot be complete success in reversing without a continual recollection of the fact that a reversing couple is like a ship on the starboard tack, and is bound to get so far out of the way of every couple not reversing as to allow them to hold their course unimpeded. Therefore, under existing circumstances, and at all places where more than three or four couples are gathered together, reversing is sin and should not be practiced in public.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

A BY-LAW

To authorize certain officials to borrow money to meet current expenditure.

WHEREAS by Sub-section 133 of Section 96 of the "Municipal Act, 1891," it is enacted that the municipal council of any city in the Province of British Columbia be authorized under the conditions there expressed to borrow from any person such sum of money and bearing such rate of interest as may be requisite to meet the current legal expenditure of the corporation which becomes payable out of the annual revenue before the revenue for the year becomes payable by the taxpayers;

AND WHEREAS it is found necessary in order to meet the current legal expenditure of the Corporation of the City of Victoria to borrow the sums of money hereinafter mentioned in accordance with said Sub-section 133 of Section 96 of said "Municipal Act, 1891."

THEREFORE BE IT ENACTED by the Mayor and Aldermen of the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

1. It shall be lawful for the Corporation of the City of Victoria to borrow from the Bank of British North America such sums of money as may be requisite to meet the current legal expenditure of the said Corporation which becomes payable out of the municipal revenue, and the amounts so borrowed shall be repayable and repaid on or before the 31st day of December, A.D. 1891, out of the municipal revenue for the said year.

2. The amounts so borrowed shall not exceed in the whole the sum of Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars ($250,000), and the rate of interest payable thereon shall not exceed the rate of six per centum per annum.

3. The obligation to be given to the said Bank shall be in writing signed by the Mayor and the Clerk of the Municipal Council of the said Corporation and shall be in the form of a promissory note and shall bear the corporate seal of the said Corporation.

4. All agreements for advance heretofore made from said Bank are herby confirmed.

5. The "Bank Credit Amendment By-Law, 1891," is hereby repealed.

6. This By-Law may be cited as the "Bank Credit Amendment By-Law, 1891, No. 2."

Passed the Municipal Council the 23rd day of September, A.D., 1891.

Reconsidered and finally passed the Council this 5th day of October, A.D., 1891.

JOHN GRANT,
Mayor.
